The Past, The Present and The Future...the theme of the 2003 Wellesleyan Yearbook is REFLECTIONS...

Where have we been, where are we now and where are we going? Questions asked not only by Seniors leaving behind a school, a community and a way of life they have grown to recognize but by the greater school population as well.

Self-reflection should be a subject area explored by each and every individual. Growth and change begins with ourselves, which then result in growth and change in our world.

Wellesley High School will continue to grow and embrace change, but it's important not to forget the journey from which we traveled. Throughout this edition, you may notice elements not only of past as we reflect upon the foundations from which W.H.S. was built, but of new and unfamiliar routines made possible by the endless support given to the school as it continues its evolution.

Student Life - At A Glance

Students at W.H.S. arrive at school cheerful and perhaps a little groggy, but nonetheless ready to face the obstacles of the day. With a growing number of students and faculty, it's hard not to find a friendly face in the crowd. A variety of pursuits exist for the student body. When coupled with the friendly atmosphere, it's not uncommon to see students forming bonds with one another despite differences in age and grade.

Freshmen cluster in the hallways anxiously awaiting their classes, wondering what new challenges the day will bring.

Sophomores relax with their friends in the library, confident that they know the ropes.

Juniors enjoy the freedom of free periods and the picturesque window section of the Cafe, but continue to work hard and maintain good grades for college selection is looming on the horizon. Seniors rush in from the parking lot, usually a little flustered. They attempt to make it to class on time. While the college application process is frenzied and stressful, the completion of this work will yield an unparalleled feeling of accomplishment. The caring and dedicated faculty keep students on their toes in class but kids still have time to relax and enjoy themselves and their friends throughout the day.

"My favorite class is economics with Ms. Lynn because our discussions are informative and interesting."

WHS Morning Exercises '73

On Tuesday 3, 2002 the students of Wellesley High School came together for the first day of the new school year.

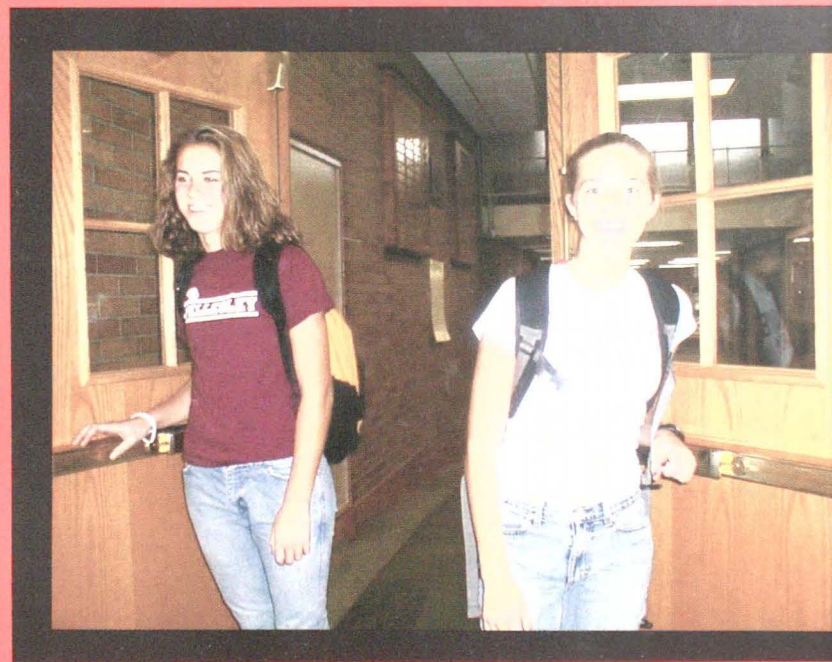

All grades were decked out in their finest summer outfits and greeted each other back from our long summer vacation. The class of 2003 was ready to embark on their long awaited senior year.

While seniors were starting their year in the spotlight, the freshmen class started to get a feel for life at WHS. The first couple of weeks they learned everything from the amount of work they would get this year to their teachers names to where to sit in the cafeteria.

The sophomores started to feel a little more comfortable than last year as freshmen. The Juniors have moved up in the ranks and are now upperclassmen.

The band played during the spirited Welcome Back Assembly as Ms. Mirkin welcomed all the students back to school. Representatives from clubs such as Key Club, Model UN and Student Congress spoke encouraging new members to join their clubs. All the new teachers were introduced and welcomed to the wonderful faculty of WHS.

In all, the students of WHS were very excited to start their 2002- 2003 school year and make it as successful as possible.

A Look Back A Leap Forward

This year at Wellesley High School, there are elements to our school that are old, new, and a blend of both.

The school has thrived through numerous generations, and so have many of the traditions. One long-standing tradition is the annual yearbook. Looking back at yearbooks of the past, it is surprising to see how similar the student life of the past is like the way students go about Wellesley High School today! Certain aspects of the school have changed with time, while others have remained the same. Thirty years ago, the computer of today was a typewriter. The clothes were much louder, the hair was much bigger, but the students had just as much fun as they do today.

Although we like to keep the old, it is nice when to bring in new. This year we have many new arrivals to our school. There are over 20 new staff members including a new vice principal, new teachers, and even new coaches. For the freshman class, everything is new: drop days, soda machine, jukebox, and even the mez!

Our school community has grown with each new year that approaches, but we also continue to carry on the spirits and traditions of Wellesley High School.

All Part of the Picture...

Whether it's early Monday morning or Friday afternoon, students at WHS find themselves diligently completing the tasks expected of them. Some days seem to fly by and others drag on, but nonetheless we are all in it together. Students make the most of each and every day. For some, the week can be a filler between the weekends, for others a preparation for life. Either way, each student develops his or her own unique routine. We take time each day to stop by our lockers, check our mail in the library, take a break on the mezz, eat with friends at lunch, complete a science experiment or expand our minds in each of our many classes. When the last school bell rings, we run off to our numerous afterschool activities or simply relax at home for a while. 180 days can seem to fly by, especially for Seniors hanging on to their last days here at WHS. Fear not Freshmen, your day too will come..

"My favorite part of the school day is seeing my friends in between classes."

Leah Woodard '03

"A day at the high school is interesting and fun but at the same time it is challenging and tiring. Every day I look forward to spending time with my friends."

Claire Chazen '06

Truly Anyone??

It's Friday at 2:30...the final bell rings and everyone races out of their classrooms, through the school building doors and onto the sidewalk just outside the school. Students greet their friends, ask how their day went and what they have planned for the weekend. Expressions and body language reflect true relaxation in knowing that tomorrow is not a school day. Another bonus is that homework doesn't have to be done tonight.

"Thank Godness It's Friday", is overheard amongst conversations in the parking lot. Cars peel out of the parking lot and head towards friends' houses, Mobil and even to home sweet home...the weekend has arrived!

First Dance

Red Hot!

"It's getting hot in here..." everyone screamed at the back to school dance on September 13th 2002. The amount of students who wanted to go exceeded the number of printed tickets, so many students were left wondering whether they would be able to attend. Luckily everyone who wanted to go could go, but due to the large number of people there it was hot and sweaty. By seven o'clock pm, the music was blasting as everyone danced the night away. Everyone danced in one big clump. They shouted out the lyrics of their favorite songs including, "Grindin'", "ChaCha Slang", and "Work it". Everyone left the dance thinking it was a big success and looking forward to the one at the start of the second semester.

Get "Pep" With Step

With a crash boom and a bang, the WHS Jazz Band welcomed us into the first Pep Rally of the school year. After the crowd settled, the second round of excitement commenced with the up beat rhythm of the WHS Step Squad. The steppers made it clear that "It's showtime in the house tonight," and they were there to "get it right!" Two seniors who were representing the class officers were the MC's for the afternoon. The varsity team captains were revved up and enthusiastic for the upcoming season. Field hockey was the first sport to speak. Chrissy Maloney and Lindsey Toomey assured the school that they were off to a great start and it was only going to get better. Then the women's soccer team captains, Mary Conway, Hillary McManama, Justine Purbaugh expressed their excitement over their great season and ended with a cheer along with the Varsity Field hockey team. Megan McCarthy, Jill Pugach, Katie Cohen, and Kathryn Hallet were psyched about being undefeated at that point in the season. Adam Spencer, Frankie Haluska, and Greg Diamond thanked the fans for all the support and set a great vibe for the season. Although off to a shaky start, the volleyball captains, were in positive spirits and optimistic for the season ahead. With a big turn around from last season, the Cross Country captian, Matt Bergin and Jeff Peterson described their enthusiasm to make it to the state finals. The Girl's Cross country team let us know they're going to "...Run and run and run and run and run," all the way to All states to bring the banner home.

Wellesley raider pride extends back decades, and each class must strive to preserve the long tradition that has been created. Pride, commitment, and dedication are the three values that the Wellesley Raiders strive to live by. The support and dedication of the fans, and the excellence of the athletes, is what has made the Wellesley athletic program what it is today.

03 SENIORS

Senior Year marks the end of some traditions, and the beginning of others. Our time here at Wellesley High School is wrapped up in one unforgettable year. Although the beginning of senior year is filled with college applications and seemingly endless work, it all feels worthwhile when spring rolls around. Senior Project is one endeavor that gives us the chance to experience education outside of the classroom. Beep Day and Senior Spirit Week are more special occasions that signify our completion of high school. And, of course, Senior Prom and Graduation are nostalgic events that will serve as a reminder of our time at Wellesley High School throughout our adult lives. Our activities and experiences throughout this final year of pre-collegiate schooling will help us to savor an era we will want to cherish forever.

"Will we think about tomorrow like we think about now? Can we survive it out there? Can we make it somehow? I guess I thought that this would never end, And suddenly it's like we're women and men. Will the past be a shadow that will follow us 'round? Will these memories fade when I leave this town? I keep, I keep thinking that it's not goodbye Keep on thinking it's a time to fly."

Underclassmen

For most students it seems that there's never enough hours in a day to accomplish all they need to do. Sometimes it seems as though Underclassmen face the most challenges. As the Freshman begin their Real World WHS experience, they lose their reigning title of Middle School Oldest group to the High School's youngest.. Getting used to their new surroundings takes time. Some are taken by surprise as they encounter their first large assignment of their High School career, the dreaded "Issue Paper." However, most Freshman deal with year one.

The Sophomores are no longer the youngest students at school but they are far from being the oldest. Year two brings with it the American's Author thesis paper--the MCAS experience--and the highly anticipated end of the year event, Sophomores have one of the more relatively relaxing years before the real stress begins.

While Juniors have to stress about college for the first time, taking the SATS and the History Thesis paper, but they are offered many relaxing nights such as the cotillion and the boat cruise. Juniors get a chance to make some money for their class by putting together the Junior Class Auction.

"Junior year is very time consuming, because you have to apply to colleges, but it's worth it!"

L. Gallup

"Sophomore year is fun because you are adjusted to the High School and you don't have to worry about colleges."

"Freshman year is hard because at the Middle School you are treated as kids and at the High School teachers expect more."

We Have Lots of FUN!

Sigh. Well, that just about sums up junior year. Junior year is considered the most important year for colleges, and therefore, is the most difficult and stressful year in high school. We jumped on the bandwagon in September, and we never stopped going. With PSATs in October and the Pep Rally in November, we juniors certainly kept busy. Besides, we did it all in the midst of a busy schedule, which includes very hard courses for some of us. December was a nice break with barely three weeks of school, and January quickly followed with Midyears. February vacation was another nice break, and March brought nicer weather. The rest of the year was a jumble of SATs, AP tests, and college visits. Despite the stress, we juniors really managed to have fun. We had a very successful and fun Junior Auction, which will provide the class with tons of fun activities in the exciting year to come. The boat cruise, in May, was a blast! Even though we were seen running through the halls, stressing out about all of the super-important tests we had next period, we were still having fun. This year is one that we will all look back and smile upon!

05 Sophomores!

OSophomore Class!

As we enter our second year at Wellesley High School, we obtain our "sophomore" status, "the next appellation to freshman."

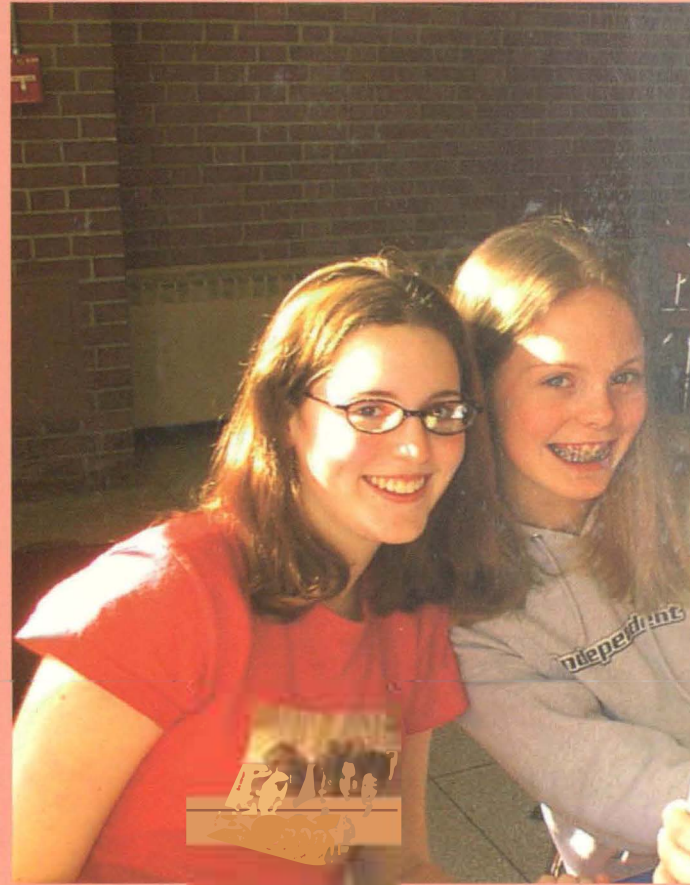

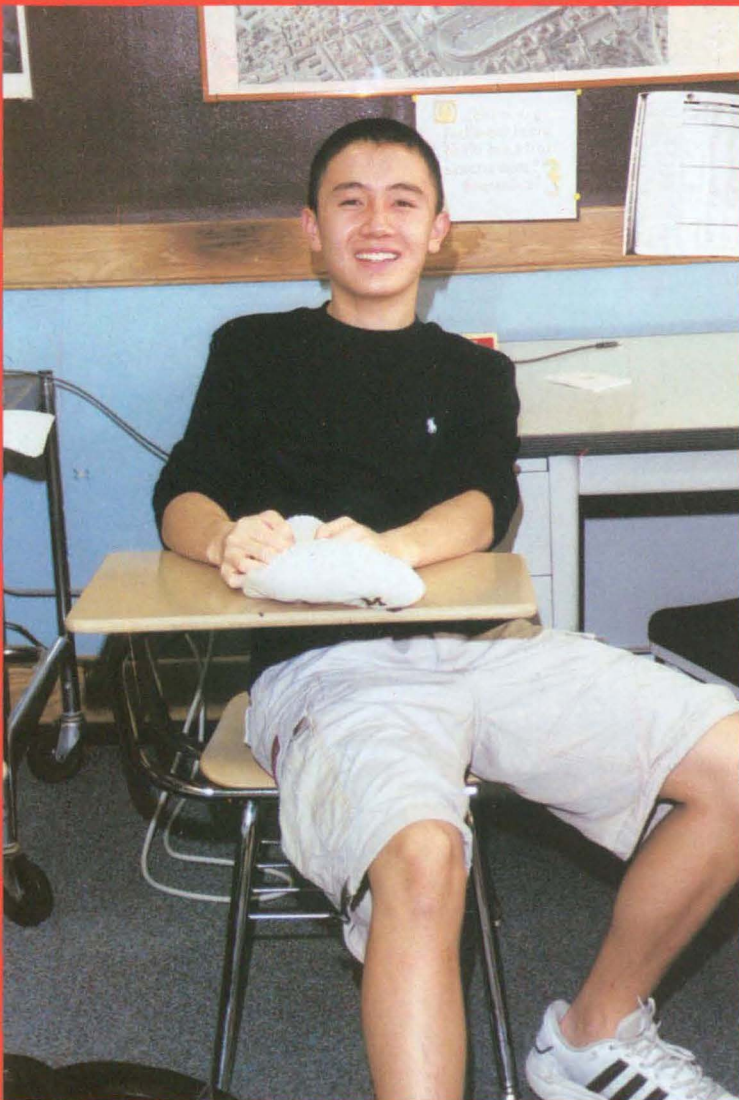

(dictionary.com)

The year was filled with challenging assignments and new adventures. Both our school days and weekends were packed with experiences that were unforgettable.

While we were reluctant to begin again, we came to school with high hopes for a new year. We soon remembered all the fun we had last year and willingly started to relive the moments.

As sports and fall activities began, the sophomore class was inspired to try our hardest to make our sophomore year the best possible. Winter sports and events came and went making this year even more memorable.

FRESHMEN

FRESHMEN come in with a BANG... Record Breaking Numbers!

This year's student body contains over 300 freshmen, making them one of the largest classes Wellesley High has ever seen. The overwhelming number of freshmen is apparent in the hallways, during assemblies, and especially at second lunch. Simply put, freshmen are everywhere.

Hopefully this year's freshmen class will prove both bigger and better when it comes to sports. The freshmen athletic teams are huge, and coaches are hoping this will translate to strong Varsity teams in the years to come. Greater numbers also mean greater competition for spots on JV and Varsity squads, meaning the WHS sports program should be filled with standout performers. The influx of freshmen has also lead to increased membership in the various school clubs.

High School is a significant departure from the Middle School in both education and student life. Teachers have rigorous curriculums and expect more from each student. Gone are the times when students could avoid the consequences of not doing school work with feeble excuses. If work is not done well they risk losing credit, and not turning work in on time can lead to a buildup of zeroes. Freshmen quickly find that slacking off is not an option, with the more ambitious students already looking ahead to college and potential careers. Any way you look at it, grades are an important part of students' lives.

Freshmen are known as the youngest and smallest members of the student body, and they sometimes get lost in the shuffle. One freshman complained that "it stinks being the youngest", and this complaint is not without merit. Upperclassmen tend to forget what it felt like when they were freshmen, and come to regard the frosh as unimportant. Being the youngest, however, means that this year's freshmen will have a whole four years to make their mark on the school.

Once the excitement and intimidation of coming to High School fades, freshmen settle in for four long but adventurous years at Wellesley High. For many of them the leap to High School will be a turning point in their lives. It will be a time for them to gain experience and start growing into the people they will become later in life.

A Full House of Faculty

While the faculty at Wellesley High School teachers the entire school body, they always seem to find time to communicate with each student. Everyday our diverse faculty brings their individuality into the classroom, creating an interesting and exciting atmosphere where everyone can learn. The faculty devotes both time before and after school to help students understand the material completely.

Still going strong, the METCO program gives inner-city students the opportunity to attend suburban schools such as WHS. Taking challenging courses and participating in a variety of school activities such as Step, plays, sports, along with many others, the METCO students have brought a new energy to the school community. Several accomplishments of the METCO program this year are the implementation of a student-to-student mentoring program and a young men's group. As the number of METCO students grows, the METCO room seems to be getting smaller. For the past two years Ms. Deborah Ward has diligently and consistently helped and guided the METCO students as the METCO Academic Coordinator here at WHS. She's da bomb!

GUIDANCE

ART

Students at Wellesley High School are provided a unique opportunity to express their artistic talents through ceramics, drawing and painting, jewelry making and other visual arts. Some very artistic students even elect to participate in "INTENSIVE ART". This means they would express their talents five times a cycle..now that's more than just doodles!

This year the Classical and Modern Language teachers helped their students obtain a better and more complete understanding of the languages offered. By listening to music, reading literature, and discussing foreign countries, students learned a lot about different cultures. Students visited the language and computer labs during class to enrich their skills and knowledge about the languages. Students are required to speak in the language being taught which helped to improve their vocabulary and fluency. This year the high school participated in exchange programs. Students came to Wellesley High School for a period of three weeks and high school students visited foreign countries to live with a family. This was a great experience for everyone and it evoked a greater appreciation for the language program.

ENGLISH

No two days of English are alike; every day there is new excitement, insights, and adventure," said Mrs. Adler. This quotation captures how the English department continues to try to bring English alive and make it an exciting learning experience. The English teachers come up with creative and interesting ways for students to learn while reading books, writing essays, learning grammar, studying vocabulary, and analyzing passages. Mrs. Woodard feels that English is important because, "We get to talk about literature, human experience, and life." English class gives students the opportunity to express their views and dig deeply into the surface of the text. Mrs. Frick, the department head, feels that "Teaching English is being what I love to do the most. I can't imagine another job that is as meaningful as discussing literature with young people." With attitudes like these, you can be sure the English teachers have much to offer to us.

Family & Consumer Science

From Culinary Arts to Child Development to Business...Family and Consumer Science is one of the most loved departments at WHS. It offers students unique opportunities to express themselves through hands-on learning experiences. These courses sometimes ignite hidden talents. This can lead students to career choices or interests to pursue in future educational settings. Additional courses in this department include Business Law and Global Marketing, Computer Applications, and Yearbook. The FACS Department fosters thinking and communication skills, helps students improve decision making abilities and best of all, makes learning fun!

Fitness & Health

The Fitness and Health department creates a positive atmosphere for students to participate and experience. It enables high school learners to improve fitness and perform activities to test their strength. This department offers numerous courses including sports education, Pathways to fitness, and various adventure courses. This program challenges students to live up to their potential. Fitness and health test a student's ability through hands on course, rather than the more factual learning approach used in other classes. Overall fitness and health proves to a student that they are capable of anything that they put their mind to.

At Wellesley High, students can participate in a number of performing arts classes. These groups include choral groups, drama groups and musical groups. In Fall 2002 Wellesley High presented "How To Succeed In Business: Without Really Trying". The play was a great success. Also, in fall 2002 there were three choral concerts that displayed the talents of many students.

From charts to graphs, current events to maps, the history teachers are always coming up with new and exciting ways to show us what history is all about. This year in the social studies department, one of the goals is to get students to interpret information and ideas in various ways, so that students can form their own opinions. "The most interesting part of teaching history is helping students understand the process of interpretation," Ms Hiester explained, "There are so many great stories and its so important that students can interpret what is being said and become historians." The teachers are also working on a social studies handbook to have for future years. "This year we are trying to form a handbook that will give next year and later years examples of how to write a history paper, since writing them is different from English," Ms. Hemond, the department head, told us. "It will hopefully have helpful examples of model thesis, how to take productive notes, and where to look for key evidence." We also asked different students their feelings of history at the high school. "It is very interesting to learn about different cultures and societies," a freshman told us. "Our teachers have done a fantastic job teaching us about this." Another student said, "It is important to learn about things from our past. That way we can learn how to shape our future."

Spring Forward...Fall Back

Snow fell early this year, in the middle of Autumn, but after a couple of mild winters, no one really minded...that much.

The students eagerly anticipated the annual Fall Events such as the Thanksgiving Football Game, the Fall Musical, and the Powder Puff Game.

The Fall sports season was intense to say the least. "Domination," was the theme of the Varsity Women's Soccer team, although it should have been for all of the Raider Fall Sports.

The teams took to the fields beginning preseason as early as August 17th. From Freshman to Seniors, everyone worked hard at practice or at games to come out on top.

All in all, Fall was cheery and eventful. The crisp air kept our minds sharp, and the snow reminded us that New England winters were not forever lost...Oh, the bliss of Fall Days they pass quickly by and soon we must face winter's fury!

"Fall sports are a great way to get back into school mode. It is something to look forward to during the summer."

Halloween

Many people believe high school students are too old for trick-or-treating, but the seniors at Wellesley High think that "fun" knows no age limit. Halloween is always an exciting holiday. This year, it was clear that the seniors made the most of October 31st in the annual

Halloween Parade. Ghosts and goblins made their annual march through the halls tossing candy to underclassmen and teachers. This tradition always raises the spirits of the seniors and their spectators with a flurry of clever and creative costumes. The procession brought out the inner child in everyone. Costume highlights included a collection of witches, angels, devils, movie characters, Greek gods and goddesses, pirates; even Sponge Bob Square Pants made an appearance. Each senior who participated will have a special memory of this entertaining event.

"The Musical was a major success this year. It was especially good since we used a well renowned piece such as how to succeed"

- Andy Brown '03

"How to succeed was one of the most exciting performances I've ever participated in. I'm really glad we chose it for the Musical of my senior year."

- '03 Joe Dean

"The characters of this performance were a lot funnier than past musicals. That's probably a large reason why the audience got such a kick out of out this year."

There's no business like...

The Fall Musical

Broadway's hit, How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying, made for an excellent musical this year. The success was directed by Wellesley High newcomer, Mr. Wrobleski, which marked his directorial debut here at Wellesley. The performance was also led by Senior Carrie Davis, and Senior Joe Dean. Not only was the musical a success on the stage, but also in the audience. All three days sold a record number of tickets for the Performing Arts Department. I'd call that, knowing how to succeed.

Thanksgiving Pep Rally

The 2002 Thanksgiving Pep Rally was a complete success this year due to spectacular performances by the Senior Women, cheerleaders, step squad, and representatives from each class who performed. With a fresh layer of snow coating the ground, over 1000 students packed the cozy gym to celebrate the upcoming football game versus longtime rival, Needham. The Wellesley-Needham football rivalry is the longest rivalry in the country. Students waited in anticipation to see what each class would have to offer as motivation to the Raiders for the big game. The freshman led the school in a chant and sophomores performed the classic skit downgrading Needham while boosting the awesomeness of Wellesley. The juniors offered a little rap and the Senior Men continued the SNL take-off so loved by all. The step squad's performance pleased onlookers while offering several new members while the cheerleaders demonstrated immense talent despite a somewhat limited squad size. Last but not least the Senior Women performed the traditional Senior Women dance and pumped up the crowd even more. They cheered on the freshman, sophomore and junior football players as they ran down the gym. The Senior football players got special recognition as each was called individually and ran down the gym. At the end of the day many students left the gym for a nice relaxing Thanksgiving break, while senior women left ready to fight their hearts out in the Powderpuff game. All in all, the pep rally instilled school spirit in us all.

It was 25 degrees.... Six inches of fresh powder already had been packed on the ground. Snowflakes slowly fell on the faces of the dedicated girls. Although only 26 senior women participated in the game, each and every one of the other senior women participated in heart. Red and black covered the stands as the underclassman, alumni and parents cheered on our lovely senior women. The trophy glistened on the Needham side, pushing the Raider senior women to fight even harder to win it for our trophy case. The captains for our team were Leigh Davison and Emily Stone and proved worthy of that position through their effort and courage during the big game. Despite a great effort by all, the Needham girls held onto the trophy for one more year. Hopefully next year we can win that trophy back! Good Luck Junior girls!

Wellesley Vs. Needham

Mike Guigli walks off the field after a tough loss.

If you live in Wellesley or in neighboring towns, you know what it's all about...

WELLESLEY VS. NEEDHAM-the oldest high school football rivalry in the U.S. Going on 121 years, the history between the teams has been featured in NFL.com, ESPN.com, and many other news sources. Since 1882, Needham and Wellesley have matched wits in challenging the other to a sporty game of football. Although Wellesley has won more games than Needham since 1882, the intensity of the rivalry remains solid. This year, Wellesley suffered a tough 0-17 loss at Needham High School. Despite Frank Haluska's 99 yards, and Chris Gika's fumble recovery on the Raider 10 yard line, Needham broke Wellesley's 4 game Thanksgiving win streak. The turnout for the game was, as expected, quite impressive. Despite frigid temperatures, generations of Wellesleyans showed up at Needham to witness the Varsity Team play their hearts out.. Next year the game is at home, so one can only guess what the outcome will be when the Raiders are back on their own stomping ground!

Raiders Football

Wellesley High School's 2002 Football Team went through many changes this season. With a new head coach, Bill Tracey, and addition to the coaching staff, the team had to work extremely hard to come together and obtain victory. After a frightening experience during their first game when a referee collapsed and had a heart attack, the team pulled through and won the game. Norwood came upon them hard and both teams played amazing. One of the team's captains, quarterback Frankie Haluska, broke his collarbone. Losing by one point, many people thought they would fall apart without their backbone. The next week they came back, fought hard, and beat Brookline! The next few games were hard and the boys struggled, but kept their hopes up and worked harder to win their game against Natick. After another two games lost, they had a triumphant win against Framingham, and the team regained their confidence. The team had a memorable season and they wish next years team the best of luck.

Field Hockey

The crunch of leaves beneath our feet, the smell of fall in the air, the sound of whistles being blown...each remind us that it is field hockey season! Led by captains Chrissy Maloney and Lindsey Toomey, the Varsity Field Hockey Team was able to qualify for the Division 1 South Sectional MIAA Tournament game with a regular season record of 6-6-6. Despite scoring difficulties throughout much of the season, the Raiders came alive in the final few games, with scores of 5-0 and 4-1 proving their ability to put the ball in the net. Defeating Apponequet in a preliminary round game, the Raiders earned themselves the 15th seed in the tournament. Despite a strong effort, the team was defeated by the 2nd seed Norwood Mustangs, by a score of 2-0, ending the teams season. The team's overall record was 7-7-6.

Along with an adequate .500 season record, the 2002 Raiders were said to be the "most social team of the century"(Coach Molonea). From team dinners to team sleepovers, the team not only ate an immense amount of food, but formed new and tight bonds. Despite midseason frustrations, the team ended on a positive note.

Mens' Soccer

The Men's soccer team had one of its most successful seasons in years. Varsity captains Chris Monahan and Nick Escallon led the Raiders to an impressive 10-5-4 record and a tournament berth, balancing strong defense with a patient and opportunistic offense. Juniors Pete Smith and Brian Killian were top offensive performers and received support from midfielders Rhamy Zeid, Rom Celli, and Todd Buffum. Escallon and Monahan spearheaded the stalwart Raider defense with the aid of Chris "Dome" Burke and Jon Chalifoux. Goalkeepers Mike Murphy and Charlie Rossetti combined for a total of 11 shutouts in 19 games, and Rossetti finished the regular season with a streak of 5 in a row. The team entered the tournament with high hopes but was eliminated in a heart breaking second round loss to Dighton-Rehoboth. With many starters returning, the team can look forward to another successful season next Fall.

The Junior Varsity team will likely contribute a number of members to the varsity team next Fall. The team ended with an impressive record of 10-3-3.

Men's and Women's Cross Country

The 2002 season was one to remember for Men's and Women's cross-country. The men finished with an overall record of 8-3, while the women finished with an outstanding record of 10-1. Both men's and women's cross country were able to trample the competition and claim the Herget Division for Wellesley. "Both teams have worked extremely hard to be called division champs. The team was also able to come out on top after numerous injuries. "- Coach Bowman.

Although victories in the division were a definite highlight of the season, the men's team finished 8th at the MIAA States meet, while the womens' team finished 2nd. Way to go raiders!

Facing almost three hours of practice a day and an exhausting game schedule, the women's volleyball team has a lot to be proud of. Overall, they have come a long way since the beginning of the season. Led by team captains, Jemma Moore, Jeni Kennedy, Anna Billa, and Cassndra Fradera the team has enjoyed many laughs and new friendships. Women's volleyball has certainly expanded since last year, introducing 17 new freshmen to the challenging, yet exhilarating sport. Coach Wayne Lem's second season coaching here has been successful. While strutting around in their flashy, sleek, black uniforms, spandex, and kneepads, the varsity girls have managed a win-loss record of 6-9. The girls on the team have experienced a lot this season: team dinners, sleepovers, and long bus rides filled with song and fun. Hopefully they will be able to continue to make use of their outstanding talent next year. The team as a whole would like to wish good luck to their seniors: Kerrin, Cassandra, Alyssa, Kristina, and Liz, they will be remembered next year.

Women's Soccer Intensity 2003...Sharpening Up!

"INTENSITY"! This was the Wellesley High School women's varsity soccer team's motto for their outstanding 2002 fall season when they just barely missed the state tournament. Leading the team were co-captains Justine Purbaugh, Mary Conway, and Hillary McManama. Some highlights include the Raiders' defeat of #1 rival Needham with a score of 3-2. Also, after the Raiders had a disappointing loss to Natick, they came back to win a very important game against Milton. Wins over Walpole and Norwood showed the team's "DOMINATION". A tie with Dedham, a highly ranked team, showed the league that Wellesley was not a team to be reckoned with. Starting the season with a new coach and a new attitude proved to be the Raiders' key to success. Although the team did not make state tournament, their valiant efforts, vast improvements, and their great attitudes showed the school the true meaning of a team!

It's A Breeze

Gorgeous, sunny fall days and gliding through the water of the Charles river is what sailing is all about.

This year, sailing completed its second fall season. Lead by coach Max Achtau and captains Carolyn Adler and Eric Wisch, the team had some terrific times. Fall sailing is the less demanding season of the two (fall and spring), and the team is open to all who wish to participate. The crew met two days a week for approximately eight weeks since school began. They used the facilities on the Charles River known as CBI or Community Boating Inc. While there is no racing during the fall season, the competitive racers one again willingly used this opportunity to train for varsity in the spring.

The intensity rises as the crowd waits and watches to see how the play will turn out while Emily Berry, Christina Tilghman, Regina Rubinstein and Lisa Rattner cheer the Raiders on. There were not any captains this year due to the small size of the squad, but their Coach Dianne encouraged the girls to follow their passion and continue to cheer the team on to victory with their awesome enthusiasm. Coach Dianne taught the girls the majority of their cheers, but Emily also offered much from her previous cheering experience freshman year. From the terrifically inspirational dance at the Thanksgiving Pep Rally to their endless support on the football field, this year's cheerleading squad made a marked difference in the overall demonstration of school spirit this year.

The Golf Team's coach, Mr. Hamilton, always said "You just gotta have fun!" With sixteen members, the Wellesley Golf Team had a successful season with a record of 10-6-0. The captains Dana Goheen and Clint Johnston lead the way to many victories along with seniors Liz McCabe Tony Rulli and Avi Rao. The close Walpole meet became the highlight of an amazing season. Qualifying for tournament motivated the team and they came in third in the dual meet season. The Wellesley High school's Golf team had a monumental season.

Swimming and Diving

The Wellesley High School's swimming and diving team worked extremely well together which led them to a successful season with a 7-2-1 record. With their long practices and intense six-day schedule, the team's commitment was apparent in the meets. Captains Kathryn Hallett, Jill Pugach, Katie Cohen, and Megan McCarthy did an amazing job keeping the team excited and ready to face all of their challenges. While they came in fifth in the Bay State Conference Meet, their overall record led them to be third in the Bay State League.

Winter Concert I

November 21st was the first of three winter concerts performed by Wellesley High School chorus and jazz band. The concert got off to a roaring start with Hot and Bothered, which was originally composed by Gregory Yasinitzky. The night continued with famous jazz numbers like Ko-Ko and Jump for Joy, both composed by Duke Ellington. Jazz soloists included Jenny Reichheld on saxophone, Joe Dean on trombone, and Adam Bailin on trumpet. The jazz session came to an end after Mr. Scott led his students in Dizzy Gillespie's Salt Peanuts.

Winter Concert II

Monday December 9th was the date of Wellesley High School's second winter concert. The concert featured performances by Orchestra, concert band, Brooks Brothers, and Song sisters. The night got off to a great start with Orchestra coming together to tear the roof off of the WHS auditorium.

Brooks Brothers continued the excitement with their rendition of Silent Night. Holiday classics continued to be the theme when Concert band, led by Mr. Scott, played Chestnuts Roasting on an Open Fire. The music was brought to a powerful culmination by the lovely ladies of Song Sisters.

Winter Concert III

The third and final Winter Concert occurred on Tuesday, January 7th. The concert held performances by Concert Choir, A Cappella!, and the Rice Street Singers. Each group combined their talent with sheer enthusiasm, which earned them tons of applause from the crowd. The soloists from the first of the two select groups included Carrie Davis, Jde Dean, Andy Brown and Priscilla Sung from A Capella! The Rice Street singers also provided concertgoers with solos by Peter Sergel, Chris Huang, and a duet by Juli Weiner and Elizabeth Carrter. Thanks to the versatile students in the performing arts department, this year's concert season was a complete success.

Studyin' & Dancin'

After a winter vacation over late December it's time to kick back and start second semester right? Sure, except for one thing, exams. An hour and a half for each achievement test can drive students crazy. It's also a great way to hurt your semester average if you thought you were escaping with just the average of two quarter grades. Although they can be quite arduous at times, they aren't all that bad. Exams do mean that you get a half day, and most importantly, you don't have to sit through class. Exams are also accompanied by a dance on the last day. So after many hours of study groups, panic questions to teachers, and unorganized outlines, all the students moped into their first exam, mathematics, "prepared" to take the test. For over a week, everyone had tried their hardest to study to the best of their ability. After three hours each day, of long hard testing, students were prepared to have a little fun. They were loaded with knowledge that they may never use again, and just wanted to dance it out of their systems. The Dance was a big success! Mostly everyone attendent and rocked the night away to songs like "Make it Clap" and "In the Club". Everyone left the dance hot and sweaty and relieved after a long week of testing.

Hot Chocolate, Hershey's Kisses & Free Breakfast... What more could you want?

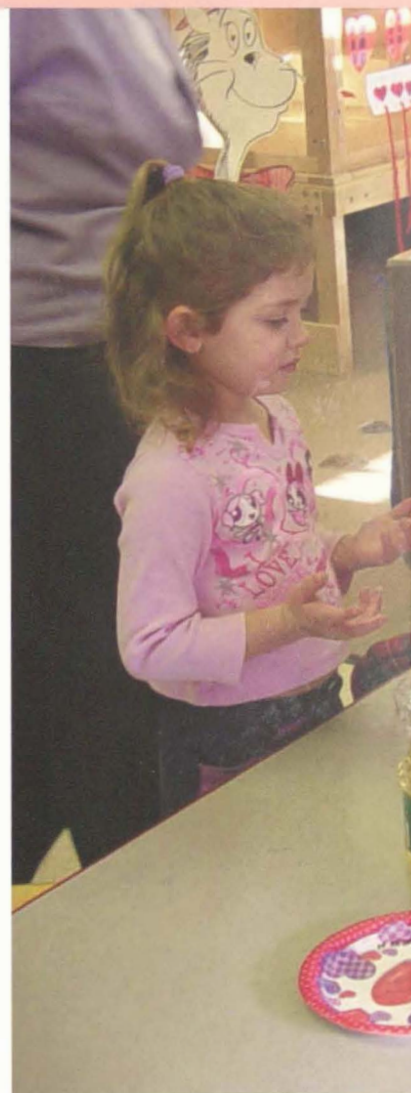

It goes without saying that during a winter of record breaking cold temperatures, everyone can use a little warmth. Well, WHS students wholeheartedly agreed, and since a trip to the balmy Carribean was out of the question, the least they could do was organize some toasty winter events. Black History Month was observed with select readings performed by students over the intercom. It really makes you think and reflect how far we have come as a country and how far we still have to go to ensure equity for all people. Another notable event was the ribbon cutting ceremony for the Fitness Center. Who remembered to bring their workout gear?

The Sophomore class delivered an extravagant faculty breakfast on the morning of February 14th. Casual conversation and breakfast goodies eased the minds, and stomachs, of the staff. It also made the very last day before long awaited February Vacation a bit more bearable.

The faculty, however, were not the only ones to benefit from the students' generosity. The children enrolled in the Child Lab program at WHS were in for a treat of their own. They prepared, cooked, and enjoyed a pretty pink breakfast of pancakes served with whipped cream and strawberries—what an unseasonable treat!

So, we all endured the Canadian cold spells and embraced the warm environment that surrounds us at WHS. What better way to stay warm during the winter months? That being said, whatever happened to snow days?

Public Displays of Affection were apparent throughout the school this Valentine's Day. Love was in the air, and for those of us who were broken-hearted and/or single, it was a bit depressing. Regardless, the singing valentines made us all feel a little extra "special". Even if you didn't receive one, you sure had fun laughing at your friends who did.

Girls Hoops

The Wellesley Raider Girl's Basketball Team expected a winning season, and that is just what they got! With only a few new additions to the team, the Raiders could not wait for the season to begin. They started off on the right foot beating the Natick Redmen by forty points. They continued winning and quickly slipped into the seating for the tournament. The Wellesley Raiders worked hard every day for each and every win. They were told by their coach, Coach Cieri, that they had to "earn every win", and this became their motto. Co-Captains Maggie Miller and Hillary McManama led the Raiders to victory and set an example of what it was like to play like winners. Congratulations to the Wellesley Raiders for such an outstanding season.

Making the Best of a Season of Hardship

The WHS Men's Basketball program had a trying season but refused to quit. With senior co-captain Eric Obeng relegated to the bench due to injury for most of the season and only four seniors returning from last year's team, the Raiders posted a 1-17 record. First year head coach Luke Day never gave up on his players, however, and kept them playing hard no matter what the score. The team was more competitive than their record reflects. A 54-43 victory against Milton early in the season ended up being their only victory, but the Raiders nearly triumphed in close losses against Needham, Natick, and Weymouth. One of the highlights of the season was the team's final game in which seniors Bill Hughto, Ben Hubner, Chris Monahan, and Eric Obeng were honored for their contributions and received standing ovations from the crowd.

While their record doesn't indicate it, many positives came out of the 2002-2003 season. Co-captain Chris Monahan being the only senior in the starting lineup, fans can count on a more developed, mature team next season. Junior Mark Flynn, Jim Costello, Mike Dowdall, and sophomore Jimmy Nelson all played big minutes and will only get better next year. Costello, with a smooth stroke from behind the arc, was the team's leading scorer and a threat from anywhere on the court. Fans can expect contributions from players who were on the 9-6 Junior Varsity team as well, and next year promises to be a much more successful affair.

Men's and Women's Ice Hockey

"This is our house," the fans cheered as the Raider Hockey teams put another win under their belt. This year both girls and boys hockey have had excellent seasons, in fact one of the best thus far. This is the first year that the boys hockey team has made tournament in 43 years of WHS hockey history. Although they lost in the first round, it was a huge accomplishment and proved to be worthy to all the WHS die-hard Super Fans who had attended every single game. The girls team tied Needham 0-0. This was the first time that the Needham girls hadn't beaten our Wellesley ladies. They too made it to tournament and got all the way to the finals. Playing in the final tournament game at Boston University was a memorable experience for those on and off the ice. The boys team was ranked 18th in the state and number 1 in the league and division. AJ Grimm was the leading scorer for the boy's team followed by Matt Davis, while Tim Archibald and Jill Doherty was one of the top 3 goalies in the league. This year ice hockey became a huge part of the Wellesley high School community. We wish all the ice hockey players the best of luck for next year.

Raider Wrestling

Where Skill and Strength Collide

Raider wrestling knows no boundaries for size or disposition, and is a team where a person's merit is measured by their heart and skill. The team, which has grown rapidly through the last few years, has come to be a seasoned squad under the leadership of captains Greg Diamond and Ronnie Slayman and the coaching of Chris Gelinas. With the help of new assistant coaches Matt Elansky and Dean Diamond, Coach Gelinas has encouraged all of his wrestlers to work their hardest and carry the name of Wellesley wrestling with pride. This year has been a breakthrough year for senior captain Greg Diamond, wrestling at the 189-weight class.. He won the Sectional and State Tournaments and was a finalist at

All-States. Fellow senior captain and drilling partner Ronnie Slayman has equally strengthened his skills and passion for the sport. Defying all expectations Ron took second at Sectionals and third at the State Tourney. Once again Rollie Peterkin takes the state by storm winning the Section, State, and All-state Tournaments along with an incredible showing at the New England Tournament where he was a finalist. Wrestling is a sport where what you put in is reciprocated in competition, Jesse Chen is a prime example of this taking third at the Section Tournament. This is a vast improvement from seventh place last year and we will all look forward to how he preforms as captain next year.

Next years captains: Jesse Chen, Rollie Peterkin, Alex Ulfelder, and Jeff Perex (not pictured) look forward to next season where their leadership skills will be helpful in securing the Raiders many wins.

Beams and Broads

The WHS Gymnastics team's '02-03 campaign was one of the best in program history. Inspired by the leadership of captains Juli Weiner and Lauren Rich, along with the guidance of coaches Clark and Kassis, the team showed much improvement from years past. The Raiders notched their highest point total of the season in an impressive match against Thayer, with a final score over 120. The close-knit squad of twelve attributes some of their success to hard work and immense team spirit, and hopes to continue its development next year.

Men's Swimming and Diving

What could you possibly expect from a team that lost five state swimmers and their head coach? Apparently, a lot. Men's swimming is undoubtedly one of the best comeback stories of the year. After graduating seven seniors, losing the number one backstroker in the state, and losing a head coach, the Raiders' season looked pretty dismal in the beginning of December. As the season progressed, however, they realized that they could always count on their undying effort. The men proved their hard work was all worth it with victories against Bay State Conference rivals Brookline and Newton North. Although they lost by less than a second to Framingham for the conference crown, they managed to come out on top over Needham and Natick for a second place finish in the BSC. Outside of the conference, the Raiders showed they can win both at home and away, with close wins over Reading and Lincoln-Sudbury. Take a fifty easy gentlemen, you deserve it.

Although the snow was not heavy this year, the WHS Ski team had a fantastic season. The boys finished first in their league while the girls finished sixth in their league. Senior Captains Liz McCabe and Wescott Woodacre finished in the top five, while fellow senior Gaby Scott finished in the top fifteen. Liz McCabe and Wescott Woodacre, along with their coach Scott Mighill, were excited and proud of the team's performance and success this year. Congratulations to the ski team on a great season!

Running Fast and Having Fun!!

This year was a great one for the 2002-2003 boys' and girls' indoor track team. The girls were oh so close to beating Natick and winning the Herget division; however, they had a disappointing loss, and finished 5-2. The boys had one of their most successful seasons yet finishing 3-4. Lots of new talent showed up for the boys and the girls. This is a cheer the girls used to psyched themselves up:

We like to run, and run, and run, and run, and run,
We run track, its fun, we will always run,
We're not last, we're fast, way

Time To Shine

The clubs and organizations of Wellesley High School offer a wide variety of opportunities for students to make new experiences and permeate the old. They provide students with the option of meeting new people, learning new things, and participating in something they enjoy.

From the Spanish Club to Botball, students can join a multitude of clubs that fit their own interests and accommodate their pursuits. Wellesley is proud to host an open enrollment for their clubs and organizations, this way, kids can join any club they want to freely. Clubs also help promote unity through fundraising activities such as bake sales and car washes.

In addition to providing students with a fun, social atmosphere, clubs have a more official side as well. Usually members of the faculty, advisors supervise and aid each person to have the most enjoyable experience possible.

Changing Focus...

Amigos de las Americas is a health care program where students train one night a week to prepare for the trip of a lifetime to Latin America. In Latin America, they will live and provide health care in the summer from four to eight weeks. This is a great opportunity to learn about the Latin American country and a great chance for community service.

Amigos and AFS International

AFS-International Exchange is an opportunity to experience a foreign culture. You do this by hosting a student or living abroad with a host family. AFS is not just limited to one culture. you can choose where you want to go or where you want the student coming to your house to be from. You don't want to pass up this opportunity.

This year's Thunder Step Squad took over the gym during our Sports and Thanksgiving Pep Rallies. They brought the house down with their creative steps and rhythms. New faces and returning members created a new persona for the group. Another notable change was extending membership to boys interested in learning the art of step. All these factors combined made quite an impression on the student body. Few of us could keep from tapping to the beat and clapping to their sound.

The Diversity Club and SHADES

The Diversity Club focuses on expanding the appreciation of diversity and difference in our school and community. They hope to hold a multicultural festival in the spring and other activities to promote diversity in our school wide community. Diversity Club also works hand in hand with SHADES. The advisor is Ms. Ward.

Gay Straight Alliance

Founded in 1993, The Gay Straight Alliance, GSA, is a club that wishes to examine and eliminate homophobia in the High School. GSA has held many events including a GSA dance. Advised by Mr. Deppe, the GSA has been working all year to bring people together no matter what their sexuality is. They held meetings every Wednesday in the guidance conference room and even hosted a coffehouse for all students and friends to attend.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society, NHS, is a “group of different people committed to the same ideas of intellectual pursuit and community involvement” (Anna Abramson). Members are led by President, John Shellito, Vice President, Andy Brown, Treasurer, Rachel Hamilton, and Secretary, Nicole Colucci (pictured above). The advisors are Mr. Adler and Dr. Rumsey. NHS devotes its time to blood drives, canned food drives, pie sales during Thanksgiving, helping during orientation, and tutoring. Students need a GPA of 4.3 out of 5.0 and they need to have done community service.

CHECK & MATE

Taking Tips from Dave...

The Chess Club is a new addition to our school. Featuring fun-filled activities such as duh, playing chess, the Chess Club offers students a chance to show off their skills. Chess club members have matches with each other; however, next year, they hope to be playing other towns. The Chess Club urges the school community to come cheer them on at their intense matches.

Yearbook

Senior editors Meredith Levin and Andrew Blancato have aptly led the Wellesleyan in its first year as a primarily digital and all color publication. Another crucial part of the recipe for success is advisor Ms. Vina. The three have led this year's staff of more than 25 members in creating a masterful piece representing the 2003 school year. The theme of the 2003 yearbook is "Reflections." By contrasting and comparing the past and present the volume depicts an engaging view of the life of WHS students. The yearbook staff is proud to present to the school the first volume of the new and improved Wellesleyan.

ACADEC

Each student who participates in the Academic Decathlon must be very knowledgeable in many different subjects such as math, science, art, literature, economy and music. They prepare for various tests in the fall and spring. By participating in the ACADEC, it enables students to explore their knowledge in many different subjects and in many different aspects. Members of ACADEC truly display their fantastic abilities in many subjects as well as their love for learning.

This team is open to all students who are interested in enriching their skills and broadening their mathematical horizons. This year the team was advised by Jill Lapato,

This year's chorus groups have redefined the word talent. The larger groups such as Brooks Brothers and Song Sisters have definitely felt the rhythm. The two different groups have gained sufficient talent since last year, due to the size of the freshman class. Wellelsey's select groups this year, have exceeded expectations and sent rhythm and rhyme all throughout WHS. Although Rice Street lost many talented seniors last year, leading performers such as Juli Weiner, Elizabeth Carttar,

Peter Sergel, Chris Huang and Ethan Abensohn have represented the class of '03 extremely well. Next year, juniors like Lauren Silva will pick up where the seniors left off. A Capella! is another select group filled with extremely talented voices. Swim team members Andy Brown, Chris White, and John Shellito prove that versatility "sounds good to me."

The 2003 Winter Play

The winter play gave a stellar performance to Wellesley High School, and later in the Winter Drama Festival, which took place at Brookline High School on March 1st. This year’s play was entitled Rhinoceros, was directed by drama teacher Mr. Woolfesh. Rachel Criswell, Andy Schmid, Hannah Adams, Jillian Levine, and Caitlin Bayer were the seniors who starred in this year’s presentation. The underclassmen also got representation from Brian Logue, and PJ Heaman.

The interesting thing about this production was the timing. The complete set up and removal of the set needed to be under 5 minutes, and if the group’s performance would be disqualified. The performance itself also needed to be under 40 minutes. The stage crew technicians were led by junior Tim Hagle, and did a terrific job of setting up and taking down the set in the proper amount of time.

2003 was another great year for the teacherless acting organization called Student Run Drama. Led by Senior Andy Brown and Senior Hannah Adams, the group met every week either after school or on Sundays to collaborate their styles. In February of 2003, they performed Samuel Beckett's classic Waiting for Godot. The production was a complete success, using Wellesley's three season thespians Andy Eklund and Caitlin Bayer to the best of use. Student Run Drama was a landmark created by the class of 2003, but an activity created for all grades. Hope next year's production is just as exciting!

French Club

This year the French club, advised by Mme. McGonogall, led many exciting and interesting events. They took trips as far away as a three week adventure in France and as close as Boston. Wherever they went they had a very good time, sampling French cuisine, watching French movies, and exposing themselves to French culture. Toni Nielsen and Shabnam Sharbatolgie kept this club alive, and made many others want to join for years to come!

Latina Vivit

The Latin Club, headed by Mr. Esposito, is a club dedicated to having fun. Every year, the Latin Club plays the German club in a floor hockey game, and this year was no exception. The Latin Club also holds a holiday dinner at the Wellesley Inn each December. Everyone had a great time eating and talking. In April, the Latin Club hosted a very successful badminton tournament. Clearly, this dead language parties on!

important members include Juli Weiner and Elizabeth Carttar as treasurers, and Jill Bloom and Christina Keiser as secretaries. The club recently held a book drive, which was a huge success. The purpose for the drive was for high school students to donate old children's books for Spanish-speaking kids who are just beginning to learn English. However, this is only one example of the many charity events the Spanish Club hosts. Later in the year, the club dined at a Spanish restaurant where they sampled various ethnic foods from Spain. # German Club & Exchange

From gingerbread houses to ski trips, German Club was the place to be this year. Headed by Herr Achtau, the club convened once a month under his supervision. Officers included JC Hodder as president, Christina Hansberry as vice president, Seth Bailin as secretary, and Jeff Schram as treasurer. The club participated in fundraising activities such as the ever-popular selling of Toblerone chocolate bars to Wellesley

High School students. Marked by success, the money from this and various other fundraising efforts helped support German Club's many activities. An example is the annual floor hockey game where German Club participants play against Latin Club students in the fall, a tradition that has been going on for quite a while. The German Club also arranged a ski trip for its members.

The club was created for students who are interested in global affairs. For each meeting, members pair up and choose a country to represent. ## "Home Sweet Home"

There are the places throughout Wellesley that we, WHS students know like the back of our hand. The Linden Deli, Mobil, Truly Yogurt, Peter's Pizza, and College Square... these are the places each of us has surely graced with our presence at some point during our high school career. They are the places that make Wellesley what it is and what we have come to think of it as. They are places of familiarity and comfort that each of us has come to know, and for all seniors, they will be sorely missed next year. This feeling of familiarity is one that each WHS student has come to appreciate. The intimacy of Wellesley is something that few other communities can boast of. Parent, teacher, and administrative support of each and every student, team, club, and organization here at the high school is something many of us have come to enjoy and appreciate. The environment here in Wellesley and specifically the High School, is one of unconditional support and assistance, an environment that has encouraged each of us as individuals, to build and grow.

"My most vivid memory of Wellesley will be the football games. Sometimes I wished I was part of the action."

Emily Stone '03

"What I enjoy most about Wellesley is the feeling of safety in the community."

Greg Pierce '03
